Mrs. L. E. Morgan has returned from Cincinnati where she has spent several weeks with her son, Grady Morgan, and wife. The latter with her little son, accompanied Mrs. Morgan home for a visit.

MANY DO HONOR TO DEAD MERCHANT

Funeral of Phillip Pelligrini at Monongah Was Largely Attended.

MONONGAH, April 12.—Phillip Pelligrini, aged 52, of Monongah, who was fatally wounded Monday morning by an automobile driven by William Cornell, was laid to rest at the Holy Cross cemetery in this city this afternoon at 12:30 p. m. Hundreds of Monongah citizens accompanied the body to Fairmont, thus showing the respect in the little mining town for the popular Italian merchant. One of the largest crowds that was ever in the Monongah Italian church assembled there at ten o'clock this morning where the funeral services were preached by the Rev. Raymond Magoro.

Immediately after the services at the church, the body was taken on a special car to Fairmont, arriving there at twelve o'clock. In all three special cars were filled with friends, besides several who made the trip on the regular car. Upon arriving in Fairmont the body was taken to the Holy Cross cemetery where interment was made. Besides a widow, the deceased leaves six children, Mrs. Dona Mascioli, of Morgantown, Mrs. Javina, Patsy, Phillip, Jr., and Lewis Pelligrini, all of Monongah. Besides his family he leaves hundreds of friends, being one of the most popular citizens in Monongah. He was well liked and respected not only the foreign population but by everyone in Monongah. He came to Monongah nineteen years ago where with his friendly and optimistic disposition he soon won a host of friends. For over seventeen years he has been engaged in the grocery business in which he made a success.

Because of the fact that there is hardly a man, woman or child in Monongah that did not know Phillip, his death came as a shock to the entire community. The death was all the more regretted in that it was purely accidental at the hands of one of his best friends. With few exceptions the death of Mr. Pelligrini has been more deeply felt than the death of any other Monongah citizen in many years. He possessed a clean upright character that won for him many friends. Often he sacrificed many of his own privileges for the love of his family, showing his degree of unselfishness. Probably his most dominant characteristic was the optimistic and pleasant way in which he met all obstacles. His popularity and the deep feeling of his death is only manifested by the many friends who turned out to attend his funeral. The beautiful contributions of flowers were other manifestations of his many friends. Phillip Pelligrini was indeed a most peaceful and valuable citizen and his absence from affairs in the neighboring town will only be realized after his departure.

Thoburn Society to Meet This Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Isabella Thoburn Missionary society will meet Friday evening at eight-thirty, instead of eight o'clock as it has been, in the ladies' parlor of the First M. E. church. All members are urged to be present so far as possible, as there are some important matters to come before the society. Program will be rendered as follows: Song, O Zion Haste; scripture lesson and prayer, Mrs. Hugh Wilson; roll called, responding with a scripture verse; business, etc.; Growth of the Society, Ollie Hayhurst; leaders, Mrs. Gattrell; song, Communion, Sing Yes We Are; With Eyes That See, Virgean Hale; O Kei San's Own Story, Mrs. D. W. Skidmore; special music. Following the program there will be a social hour and refreshments served.

TROUBLE OVER GERMAN FLAG. ELKINS, W. Va., April 12.—Sheriff Stuart L. Marttiller and Deputy Sheriff W. J. Long are hurrying tonight to Helvetia, a German settlement in the remote mountainous southwestern corner of Randolph county, where rioting is reported in progress as the result of a German flag being hoisted. The emblem is said to have been torn down, and the trouble which resulted in the emergency call for help followed. The majority of the inhabitants of that section are of German or Swiss birth.

This afternoon the convention will elect officers and select a place for the next convention. Huntington and Bluefield have both extended invitations to the society and Huntington probably will be selected. Following the election of officers Dr. Buckley will address the convention on the subject "The Technic of Filling Root Canals."

Tonight the annual banquet will be served at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium the service to be in charge of the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ church which also served the noon luncheon today.

Last night's session was devoted to moving picture films showing the different methods of dental work. The films were shown by the S. E. White Dental Manufacturing company of Philadelphia. Tomorrow's session will be addressed by Dr. Buckley. The convention will adjourn Friday. One hundred and ten dentists are enrolled on the official register.

For Charity. Charities in one form or another cost the city of New York almost $14,000,000 a year. This includes more than seven million dollars' exemption from taxes.

RED CROSS TO HAVE FIRST AID CLASSES

Course of Lectures Will Begin in City Building April 23.

"A First Aid to the Injured Class" will be organized by the local Red Cross Society and the instruction will be given each Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the society headquarters in the city building by Dr. Carter S. Fleming.

The total cost of the course of lectures will be $1.50. Each lecture will last for one and a half hours and at the close of the series of lectures any member who has heard 80 per cent of the lectures will be entitled to the examination if they so desire, and if successful will be given a diploma.

The National Red Cross organization lays great stress on the first aid administered to the patient, as it often determines the result of the wound inflicted. It is hoped the women of the community will avail themselves of the opportunity of taking this course.

The course will begin on Monday afternoon April 23. Anyone contemplating taking it is asked to report promptly to Mrs. Roger Kingland, with a check covering the fee as it is important to know just how many will avail themselves of the opportunity.
